BAY ST. LOUIS, MISS., FRIDAY, MARCH 3, 1950

VOL. 59 — NO. 9

Observations... By the Editor

Wire, write or contact the Mississippi Coast Legislators, and tell them we do not want a toll bridge over the Bay of St. Louis. Hancock and Harrison Counties could have had one twenty-five years ago, however it was felt at that time it would be a detriment to the Coast. We still feel the same way. Why should the Legislature in these days of progress, and of master highways resort to the old antiquated systems of toll bridges? The Bay St. Louis bridge is the responsibility of the State, the counties and the Federal Government built the first one. It is the State's turn to put up a little money for the "Forgotten Highway." Cher Ami, Messrs. Mayor and Commissioners, to travel deMontluzin Avenue it is necessary to play "Hop-Skotch" — remember the game when you were kiddies... and why not fix the street between the Post-office and the Baptist Church... this will not take much money, nor much time... the confounded thing should be graded so that it will drain... remember it is one of the most used streets in town... the Mayor and Commissioners have issued a proclamation for Clean-Up week from March 9th through March 15th... we are to have a spring pilgrimage sponsored by the Mississippi Coast Council of Garden Clubs on March 15th... it is the right thing to have our premises cleaned up and looking nice for our visitors, but why wait until we have visitors... why not keep it clean and sprightly looking, at all times... and while on the subject our city officials should call upon the owners of some of these unsightly empty lots to clean-up... whether it is politics or not we are not in a position to say, nevertheless we have lost the Merchant Marine Cadet School at Henderson Point... probably just the thought of the Cadet School being located in Mississippi irks the President... he has ordered it closed... economy... Oh no! King's Point Academy will continue to operate... it is set up for 2400 men, with only about 400 in attendance, and the cost of its operation is many times more than the Henderson Point School... All of the students could be taken care of at the Mississippi School... but Mississippi voted a States Right ticket... Mr. President, you used to spend your vacations on the Mississippi Coast, until you became president... now you go to Florida... but after your term of office expires you will probably like to come back and visit on the coast, and the people will not be as nice to you as before... you are treating us wrong... our neighbor Captain Owen S. Walter, showed us two copies of the

Don McCulloch Gives Resume Of Red Cross

Don McCulloch, chairman of the Hancock County American Red Cross Fund drive, opened the drive Wednesday March 1 at the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club luncheon.

RED CROSS ORGANIZATION

Mr. McCulloch reviewed the Red Cross organization from 1862 to the present time and showed that the first group organization, not called Red Cross at that time, stood for organized relief work in times of war and civilian disasters.

In 1863 a preliminary conference was held in Geneva, and a diplomatic conference in 1864 was composed of 26 delegates representing 16 European states. "To aid the sick and wounded in time of war regardless of nationality," was given as the purpose of this move.

INCORPORATED IN 1861

The American National Association of the Red Cross was incorporated in 1861 with Clara Barton as its first president.

The League of Red Cross societies, founded in 1910 with 63 nations represented, Mr. McCulloch said, was to create a general interest in health conditions; to promote instruction in health. Public health nursing became the definite program in 1924. The development of the junior Red Cross was started at this early period.

THE LOCAL CHAPTER

Localizing the Red Cross, Mr. McCulloch, gave a resume of the work done in the Hancock County Chapter from March 1, 1949 to March 1, 1950. Four hundred and sixty-four cases were given service during the year; seventy-one servicemen, three hundred and twenty-one veterans and seventy-two civilians. Three hundred and forty-two cases were given service for the first time since July 1 of the fiscal year; a number of cases were given financial assistance for the past year. The amount of financial assistance given to these cases was $963.29 to the veterans and $119.15 to civilians. The chapter furnished clothing and shoes to needy families, one veteran's family and twenty-six civilian families.

The twenty-four ladies gave 756 hours toward entertainment in the V. A. hospital, production services-sewing for the hospital.

DON McCULLOCH

The local chapter sponsors one party a month for 30 patients from the hospital; various local organizations give the parties.

The Junior Red Cross made nut cups, tray favors and menu covers for the patients at the V. A. hospital in Gulfport for each anniversary during the year.

The local chapter sends some young person to the Red Cross National Aquatic school for instructor training for the Water Safety program. These teachers conduct classes in swimming and water safety in the community for children. Last summer they had 34 in the beginning class, and 25 in the junior life-saving group.

Their Majesties

Keith Tonkel and Miss Sherrill Carmouche, who reigned over Carnival Day Festivities in Bay St. Louis. The Krewe of Chica poula sponsored the Mardi Gras parade, the theme of which was "Songs."

The queen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Carmouche; his majesty is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennie Tonkel.

MERCHANT MARINE CADET SCHOOL TO CEASE ACTIVITY MARCH 21; SKELETON CREW STAYS

Pilgrimage Set For Mar. 15 - 19

The annual Spring Pilgrimage of gardens and homes sponsored by the Mississippi Gulf Coast Council of Garden Clubs will be held March 15, 16, 17, 18 and 19. Bay St. Louis will be the first stop, Mrs. Ben F. Hille, chairman of the pilgrimage for this city announced.

A brunch, to which everyone is invited, will be served at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m. March 15; the private theme will be carried out in the costumes and decorations at the club. Admission will be $1.00.

HOMES AND GARDENS OPEN

The gardens that will be open at 1 p. m., March 15, here in Bay St. Louis are St. Augustine's Seminary, Highway 90. Among the varieties of flowering shrubs planted on the landscaped grounds are camellias, azaleas, spirea, dogwood, crepe myrtles, hydrangeas, deutzia, sweet olive, holly, pyracantha and others.

LITOLFFS AND HOLZER'S

Next will be the garden of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Litloff on Highway 90. Here the tiled Peristyle with its ornate grille work, swimming pool bordered with azaleas, and the unusual rock-gardens form a restful picture amidst a splendor of color of native shrubs of the Orient.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. V. Holzer, S. Beach, Waveland will have their gardens open. Here will be found several small lagoons running through the small landscaped gardens. There is a profusion of camellias, azaleas and annuals; and the rose beds contain many varieties of roses.

OTHERS OPEN

Darwood-on-the-Jordan, home of Dr. Emmett Lee Irwin, which is located seven miles out Nicholson avenue, and extension of Kiln Highway to a cross road turn then right, will be open as well as his camellia and azalea gardens.

Mrs. Max Kohler, 645 N. Beach Blvd., will have her Oriental type garden of Easter lilies and other varieties open; and Mrs. Walter J. Gex will have her English type home, 64 South Beach boulevard, with the garden, swimming pool and fun house open.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed M. Brignac, 920 South Beach will have their home and gardens open to the pilgrimage on March 15.

From here the group will go to Pass Christian, then to Long Beach, Biloxi, Ocean Springs and Pascagoula.

Holly-Bluff-on-the-Jordan, the scenic home of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Crump, will be open for the pilgrimage.

NEW SPONSORS

For four years the Coast Council of Garden Clubs has sponsored the pilgrimage, but at the last meeting of the group held in Biloxi, the fact was stressed that next year the Better Businessmen's Association, the Gulf Coast Advertising Association, the Mississippi Hotel Association and the Gulf Coast Chamber of Commerce, will sponsor this annual affair.

The Merchant Marine Cadet school, located at Henderson Point will be discontinued as of March 21. A skeleton crew will remain on the base until the end of June. The order of President Truman and the Maritime Commission to deactivate the base reduces the school to "emergency status."

TRANSFER 164

One hundred and sixty-four cadets now enrolled at the base will be transferred to active duty aboard shipping vessels or to the Kings Point Merchant Marine Academy in New York, Comdr. H. R. McPhee, who has been in charge of the base since 1944, announced.

Seventy of the Cadets will leave in three weeks; half will go via New Orleans, and the remainder by way of San Diego.

TWENTY STAY ON

The remaining Cadets, including officers and enlisted men, will report to Kings Point Academy, and about twenty members of the school staff will remain with the base until the budget order effecting the closing takes place at the end of the fiscal year.

ACTIVE SINCE 1942

The training center has been located at Henderson Point since 1942, and was only inactive for a short time after the 1947 hurricane. The structures now standing were built after the start of World War II.

Continuance of the training program at the three locations, Henderson Point, St. Petersburg, Fla., and Alameda, Cal., was cut out by the president's budget commission. Congressman William Colmer (D-Miss.) appeared before the House Committee in an effort to have the Henderson Point school's appropriation restored.

Baseball League Opens

Sunday, March 5 At 2 P. M.

The juvenile baseball league will officially open Sunday, March 5 at 2 p. m. at Morreale's Baseball Park on Highway 90, Forster Commager, director, announced. The four teams which constitute this league will play doubleheaders beginning Sunday, on Wednesday nights and Sunday afternoons. The games will be five innings each, and every boy on the different teams will be given an opportunity to play whenever his team plays.

ORGANIZED FOR YOUNGSTERS

This league was organized to give the youngsters around the County some type of sport to keep them busy and amused, the director said. The league was not started to choose any teams for future games, but it might be possible to get a sufficient number of good players to make an American Legion team, he added.

TEAMS PLAYING

The first games will be between the teams headed by Roger Heitzmann, Jr., and D. Mathis; the second game will be between the D. J. Lucas and Bruce Favre teams.

The first ball of the game will be tossed at 2 p. m. by Mayor Warren J. Carver to Commissioner Sylvan J. Ladner, Jr., who will catch; Commissioner Cyril J. Glover will be the batter.

There Is A Possibility That This Area Is To Become Future Cattle Section Says Doak

Ample rainfall and the possibility of a pasture program to give twelve months grazing makes this area the future cattle section of the United States, Justin H. Doak, executive secretary of the Mississippi Cattlemen's association said at a meeting of that group Friday, February 24 at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

The subject of his talk was "Where Do We Go From Here?" He stated that his first trip in the Deep South was when he came to Mississippi from his home state of Missouri a few months ago to work. He was surprised at the possibility of livestock in this area.

PURCHASING POWER INCREASES

Regardless of what is to be done, it will have to begin by increasing the farmer's income and his purchasing power, the speaker continued. When the farmer's income is increased to the point where he has purchasing power, he added, the dollar he spends in town turns over from five to seven times. This purchasing power cannot be obtained until such time as good improved pastures and a better grade of livestock take the place of what is now found on some of the farms.

"MAKE FARM ATTRACTIVE" "I know that any progress is slow, but the point is always to keep progressing," Mr. Doak said. With the next census about ready to be taken it is estimated that the population of the United States would increase to 150 million. With an overall increase in population, Mississippi is expected to have a slight decrease. This condition will continue to exist until such time as the farm is made an attractive place for young men and women, he added. "The 4-H and F. F. A. Clubs are missing their mark; they fail to improve the boys and girls and teach them better practices."

STRAIGHTEN UP FINANCES

He advised the cattlemen of Hancock county to get their pastures in condition and their finances such that if cattle should go to five cents per pound they can still sell and make a profit. He also told them to be cautious in buying livestock as things are on a downward trend.

"It is up to you," he concluded, "you can go forward with the wonderful opportunities which you have or stand still. Nobody can make that decision but you."

ELECT OFFICERS

At the meeting officers for 1950 were elected as follows: Alfred Witter, Route 3, Picayune, president; Frank Keller, Route 1, Picayune, vice-president; and Howard Simmons, Bay St. Louis, secretary.

MISSISSIPPI'S STEP-CHILD

The Mississippi Legislature should have named Highway 90 on the Mississippi Gulf Coast, "The Forgotten Highway," instead of naming it the Pat Harrison Memorial Highway. The Legislature in attempting to honor one of Mississippi's distinguished sons, placed his name on one of the most dilapidated primary highways in our entire state system.

For the information of the Mississippi Highway Commission and too, for the members of the Mississippi Legislature, "The Forgotten Highway" traverses the State of Mississippi along the Gulf Coast, from the Alabama Line to the Louisiana line at Pearl River. Apparently very few members of the Legislature, and none of the members of the Highway Commission, know of the existence of this highway.

The State of Mississippi has made no attempt to expend any funds for the rebuilding of this road other than the money which was expended on five miles in Hancock County. The other improvements made in this important link of road, have been paid for by the Counties of Jackson, Hancock and Harrison, or by a Federal grant.

A bridge is needed over the Bay of St. Louis, and a new roadway and bridge is needed between Gautier and Pascagoula, needless to say we need a new road, with the exception of the part in Hancock County, and a small part in Harrison County. But what do we get? The shove around. The highway commission states that they do not have the funds. The Legislature apparently is not interested. Where do we go next?

Well, a bill has been introduced to authorize the building of a bridge over the Bay of St. Louis. And guess what? They want to give the Highway Department authority to issue revenue bonds to build this bridge and to charge a toll. This legislature is composed of practically the same membership that raised the hue and cry to take away from Jackson County the toll bridge over Pascagoula River. Are they going to vote now to put another toll bridge on "The Forgotten Highway?"

The State of Mississippi has been telling the world for a long time of the great cash balance in the State Treasury, yet it is going to tell, by legislation, that it cannot appropriate approximately $2,000,000.00 to build a new bridge on the most important highway in the State of Mississippi.

The Legislature might try ascertaining why this highway has been forgotten by the Highway Commission, and why it has been allowed to deteriorate, and why the commission is able to expend funds totaling probably over $1,000,000.00 for right of ways and the building of a highway through the City of Jackson, at a time when large cities are being by-passed on important highways.

To put a toll bridge over the Bay of St. Louis would slow down traffic to a point where it would endanger life, and too, it would tend to force our tourist trade to bypass the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

We are against the building of a toll bridge, and the Legislature and the Highway Commission should realize that we are still a part of the State of Mississippi, even though we live on a "Forgotten Highway."

If a toll free bridge cannot be built, then forget about it, but remember, the lives of the people who drive over this weather beaten, and traffic torn structure are in your hands, and are your responsibility.

Soil Conservation

By: J. L. BISHOP
Soil Conservation Service

A. E. (Ford) Smith of Sellers Community is well-pleased with five acres of Bahia grass which he planted in Oct., one year ago, as a part of his complete soil and water conservation plan with the Hancock County Soil Conservation District.

Smith was discouraged with the stand he obtained the first spring after planting. He planted white Dutch clover with the Bahia grass in the fall, when he thought the Bahia grass was up, after inspection he found none. Smith thought the white Dutch clover had crowded out the Bahia grass. When the white Dutch clover matured in June, he discovered that there was a perfect stand of Bahia.

Since that time, he has pastured this grass more than any other crop on the farm. Last September, he fertilized the pasture and the Bahia was green all the winter. "I have kept about sixteen heifers on this pasture all the year and they really like the Bahia grass. White Dutch clover grown with Bahia makes an excellent fall, spring, and summer pasture. I am planning on adding 300 pounds of nitrate per acre during early March on the Bahia, in order to harvest seed to plant on my other pastures." Mr. Bishop thinks I will be able to produce about 800 pounds of seed.

"Don't get in a hurry when you plant perennials. Just wait and they will do the job," is he Sellers Community farmer's advice to others seeding these crops.

George Spiers of Leetown Community is well pleased with three acres of Kudzu which he planted four years ago, as part of his complete soil and water conservation plan. Spiers grazed his cattle on the Kudzu during October and November, when it was so dry. "I planted nine acres of steep, idle land to Kudzu last week. Soil Conservation Service Technicians helped me to survey contours for Kudzu rows. I plan to cultivate row crops between the Kudzu rows this spring. The fresh plowed soil will help the Kudzu to spread over the entire area faster. Next year I'll let the Kudzu take over," Spiers added.

Kudzu grows best on well drained clay soils. Fields with steep slopes too steep for clean-tilled row crops should be planted to Kudzu or Lespedeza Sericea for hay crops or summer and fall grazing crops.

ART ASSOCIATION TO HOLD EXHIBIT

M. E. C. Endorses County Unit System For Programs

Endorsement of the county unit system for any kind of state and rural road program which might be enacted by the state legislature was reiterated today by the Mississippi Economic Council.

FAVORS UNIT SYSTEM

The MEC Board of Directors, in a special meeting last fall to consider the state highway and rural road program, went on record in favor of the county unit system.

"The position of the Council with reference to this matter still stands," Edmund Taylor, Greenville, president of the MEC, said today. "After study of the various ways of administering public funds for rural road construction, the Council came to the definite conclusion that the county unit system is the most efficient, and the most economical."

UNIT SYSTEM SAVES

The official pointed out that it is the Board's belief that hundreds of thousands of dollars would be saved each year if the county unit system were adopted. The "beat" system of operation there is duplication of administration, machinery and man-power in many instances. Modern methods of road construction and administration make the "beat" system cumbersome and antiquated, he said.

SERVICE TO PUBLIC

"We believe the legislature will be rendering the public a great service, and pass on a real saving, by including a county unit administration clause in any rural road measure passed," the official concluded.

The MEC board also has gone on record as favoring a pay-as-you-go plan for both state highway and rural roads.

Demonstration Club Is A Money-Maker

State College, Miss.—Home Demonstration Club projects as sewing, producing poultry and eggs or re-finishing furniture can mean money to farm wives.

Mrs. J. M. Davis of the Oak Grove Community in Lamar County cleared $750 from the sale of poultry and eggs the year she started her poultry project.

$60 FOR SLIP COVERS
"I have cleared $60 making slip covers since attending a home demonstration sewing clinic," declared Mrs. Christine Buckley of Clarke County.

Mrs. J. S. Kent of LeFlore County has been selling farm produce on the Home Demonstration Market since 1932 and has been instrumental in the success of this project.

Southern Bell Report Shows Record Service To South; Earnings For Year Inadequate

"A poultry project is a nice way to make extra income for the family," Mrs. Davis said. She and her family spend about 2 hours a day caring for the flock and "the income certainly comes in handy."

PAYS EXPENSES

During one laying season she paid all the expenses of buying and raising 250 pullets. After using $75 worth of eggs at home, she made a profit of $750.

Mrs. Davis now has a new poultry house and 500 hens. She markets 135 dozen eggs a week, according to Miss Clara B. Jordan, home demonstration agent, Purvis.

REQUIREMENTS

Requirements for a successful poultry project are "lots of courage, hard work and a good set of records," Mrs. Davis has found. With her family's help at night as they listen to the radio, she grades and crates eggs, which she sells at local markets.

Mrs. Buckley made slip covers for her home, after attending a club demonstration on making slip covers, upholstery and refinishing furniture. "Seeing my slip covers, my neighbor asked me to make hers," she said.

Mrs. Buckley gives much credit for her success to Mrs. Nola H. Gordy, home agent, Quitman. "Mrs. Gordy called at my house and showed me a trick or two which makes the product more than satisfactory," she explained.

USES MONEY

With the help of her 4-H Club daughter Mrs. Buckley has already started using the money she makes to remodel her old-fashioned kitchen.

Mrs. Kent, an active home demonstration market member for 17 years, recalls selling five fryers for a total of $125 in 1932. Since that time her sales of surplus farm produce and the market have improved steadily.

"The first market building was the oldest in Greenwood—cool in the summer and cooler in the winter," states Mrs. Kent. When this building was torn down in 1946, the market moved to a small location which was the only one available. In June, 1949 it moved to a rent-free location donated by a local business man.

HOME AGENT HELPS

Much of the success of her marketing, Mrs. Kent said, is due to the help of Miss Katie Mae Dear, home agent, Greenwood, and Miss Mary Agnes Gordon, Extension marketing specialist.

"The money I have made has helped us keep all debts paid and has provided many little extras," Mrs. Kent said. She described their home in 1932 as "the oldest house in LeFlore County." Today the Kents live in a modern home with electricity, butane gas, running water, telephone, refrigerator and other conveniences.

Southern Bell Telephone Company's Annual Report released today disclosed that, in spite of inadequate earnings, the company not only furnished a record volume of telephone service to the South in 1949 but also spent huge sums in constructing additional facilities to meet the continuing heavy demand for more service.

ATTRACT CAPITAL INVESTMENT
Of progress so far and requirements still to be met, President Hal S. Dumas said in the report:

"Our unprecedented post war expansion and improvement program has thus far required more than a third of a billion dollars of new capital. This capital investment in the South has been attracted in spite of our unsatisfactory earnings because of the faith which investors have in the soundness and fairness of the South and its institutions. The continuance of this supply of capital in the future must, of necessity, depend more on adequate earnings and less upon the hope of better things to come."

THE REPORT

The report revealed that:

1. Southern Bell in 1949 added 271,963 telephones in nine states; 32,318,145 Southern Bell telephones were in rural areas. At year's end, were in service.

2. Quality of service continued to improve and, in most cases, equaled or surpassed any previous level.

3. The company in 1949 spent $136,000,000 for new facilities, bringing the four-year post-war total to $496,000,000.

4. Earnings for the company were at the rate of only 4.36 cents on each dollar of invested capital, which, although slightly above 1947 and 1948, compares with 6.90 cents in 1939. The 1949 earning rate is too low to meet Southern Bell's continuing need to raise large sums of new capital for investment in the South.

5. The total payroll for 1949—$137,245,031—was nearly five times that of 1939.

6. Operating taxes paid reached the record amount of $31,319,000, an increase of $8,454,000 over 1948.

YEAR OF POOR EARNINGS

The year 1949 was the fourth consecutive year of poor earnings, and the 1946-49 period constitutes the longest sustained poor earnings period since the early pioneering days of the company.

Reasons for the low earnings in this generally prosperous period are higher wage levels and other increased costs. Telephone rates in general have not been fully adjusted to the higher costs, the report says.

Higher wage levels alone have accounted for a greater increase in costs than rate increases have provided in additional revenue.

MRS. SHAW MOVED TO GULFPORT

Mrs. Calvin Shaw, who has been a patient at the Kings Daughters hospital, has been moved to the Memorial Hospital, Gulfport.

Develop Chemical Method For Control Of Nutgrass

State College, Miss.—A chemical method, which will control nutgrass has been developed by the Mississippi Experiment Station and the United States Department of Agriculture, but so far its use has been confined to small areas.

Nut or coco grass, one of the most difficult of all weed tests to control may be eradicated by using methyl bromide as a fumigant, with the gas confined under heavy paper to keep it in contact with the soil. O. A. Leonard and C. V. Harris have recently reported this conclusion as a result of their work at the Mississippi Experiment Station.

Lawns, flower beds and gardens may be freed of nutgrass, although the method is not practical for field use because of the expense involved. Since the gas is very poisonous, great care must be taken to see that none of it is inhaled. Methyl bromide itself is odorless but in most commercial preparations another material has been added so that the odor can be detected.

For best results the area to be treated should be spaded or worked to a depth of 10 inches. The methyl bromide is then released by means of an application kit, under a well-sealed, vapor-proof cover. The cover, which must be free of holes should remain over the area for at least 24 hours. Three days after removal of the cover, seed may safely be planted in the area which should then be free of nutgrass, Johnson grass, Bermuda grass, many weed seeds and nematodes.

The material is available from several commercial sources in the state. Cost of the material, when the experiments were made, was 82 cents per pound. One pound is required to treat 100 square feet.

Observe National 4-H Club Week

By Howard F. Simmons

NATIONAL 4-H CLUB WEEK

The 106,000 Mississippi 4-H Club members are ready to do their part in actively observing National 4-H Club Week, March 4-12.

OPPORTUNITY FOR INVENTORY

Opportunity for club members to inventory their 4-H activities, checking efforts to carry to completion programs already started, will be an outstanding feature of the coming week. Members will also inventory their communities, each trying to enroll at least one new member.

Parents and the general public will become more acquainted with the 4-H program during the week. In many communities, the 4-H boys and girls will prepare exhibits of their work, conduct "4-H Open House" through special public meetings and speak as invited guests of adult groups.

"Better Living for a Better World" is the theme of National 4-H Club Week.

HANCOCK COUNTY HAS 485 4-H'ERS

Hancock County has 485 4-H boys and girls who will observe National 4-H Club Week. Of the 485, 316 are boys and 169 are girls whose ages range from 10 years to 21. A total of 26 projects are carried by the boys and eleven by the girls. The leading project for the boys is pigs with 138 of the total enrollment taking the project. Of this number 116 completed their project involving 154 animals. Dairying was second with 42 4-H members enrolled, 37 completing with 109 animals involved in the completed project. Poultry was third with 40 members enrolled and 34 completing. The 34 who completed their records involved a total of 750 chickens. Corn was fourth with 32 members enrolling with 40 of that number completing, the completion involving 78 acres. Forestry is broken down into two headings, one planting seedlings and the other farm woodland management. The first is the actual reforestation of the denuded land by the boy as a tree planting demonstration. The second is farm woodland management where the member takes one or more acres as his project, builds fire lines and does selective pruning and cutting as his project.

ERNEST LEE IS EXAMPLE

One of the finest examples of the above is Ernest Lee, a 4-H Club member in the Leetown Community. In 1939 his older brother planted ten acres of slash pine. Two years later the older brother died and Ernest took over the project. At this time these trees are approximately 30 feet high and eight to ten inches in diameter at breast height. Perhaps the two things that have been outstanding about this demonstration is the fact that the trees have been pruned regularly and the fire has been kept out. This is a standing example of what can be done with the correct forestry practices in Hancock County.

NOT ALL "WORK"

4-H Club work in Hancock County is not all "work." Community and County entertainments are held at which time various members get together, learn to know each other and exchange ideas. Each spring, near the close of school, a one day 4-H picnic and swimming party is held by each of the clubs. Another big attraction is the annual Hancock County 4-M Club Camp which this summer will be held June 5, 6, 7 and 8th at Lake Waukaway, twenty two miles above Laurel. Lake Waukaway is considered by the American Red Cross as the finest swimming facilities in Mississippi. For these days the club boys and girls will completely relax and spend four days of well earned vacation.

4-H Club work in Hancock County lives up to the slogan "To Make the Best Better," and no boy or girl is satisfied with his or her project until they have made the best just a little better.

Army Helps Each Recruit Find Best Career Field

A new method for determining the type of work for which a young man or woman is best adapted and has the best chance for success recently was introduced by the United States Air Force, T/Sgt. D. R. Amos announced today.

FORWARD STEPS

"By helping each recruit find his best career field through the use of replacement tests," explained Sgt. Amos, "we believe we have taken one of the most forward steps of any large organization—whether it be industry or within the Armed Forces."

The placement, or aptitude, tests were given experimentally to more than 100,000 airmen during two years of study by the 390th Research and Development Group at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex. After a tabulation of results revealed exceptional accuracy in matching the right young men and the right jobs, the new procedure was officially approved.

KEEP APTITUDE RECORDS

During the two years of research, Sgt. Amos said, detailed records were kept of each individual's aptitudes and his progress in a scientifically determined career. The results showed exceptional progress in reducing the number of "square pegs in round holes."

The research, Sgt. Amos added, has produced at least two conclusions:

(1) The assignment of jobs based solely upon results of general intelligence tests does not assure the placement of young men and women in career fields for which they are best suited.

(2) Every young person apparently excels in at least one field. This superiority in a special field is not revealed by general intelligence tests.

TEST RECRUITS

All Air Force recruits now are given aptitude tests, followed by a personal interview with a skilled vocational guidance counselor. The counselor learns the career preferences of the young airmen and discusses with him his career potentialities as indicated by the replacement tests.

ARTHUR COMPRETTE DIES AT HOME OF SON

Arthur Compretta, 87-year-old resident of this city, died suddenly at the home of his son, Sam Compretta, Friday, February 24, at 10:30 a. m.

FUNERAL AND MASS

His funeral was held from the Fahey Funeral Home Saturday, February 25 with a mass at 10:30 a. m. at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church; Rev. Fahter Desmond officiated. Interment was in St. Mary's cemetery.

Pallbearers were Sylvester Benigno, Sam Benigno, John Benigno, Luky Benigno, Tony Benigno, Frank Chiniche.

SURVIVORS

Survivors are three daughters, Mrs. Peter Chiniche, Mrs. V. A. Morreale, Mrs. Edwin Ladner; four sons, Sam, Tony, Joe and Norman Compretta all of Bay St. Louis, also 16 grandchildren.

Mr. Compretta was a native of Italy and came to New Orleans when he was a teen-age boy. He later came to Bay St. Louis where he married Miss Frances Benigno, now deceased, and he made this city his permanent home for the past 35 years.

VISITS BROTHER

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Donner, New Orleans, spent a few days here last week as the guests of Mrs. Donner's brother, Eugene Davis, and Mrs. Davis. Mrs. Donner is the former Miss Gussie Davis.

In the past, the Air Force had permitted high school graduates to choose their specialty before enlisting. The placement tests, said Sgt. Amos, disclosed that these high school graduates often had momentary interest in careers in which their aptitude was relatively low.

Air Force psychologists believe the new Vocational Guidance Program is of greater benefit to young persons planning a career. Information concerning Air Force careers, said Sgt. Amos is available at the Court-house, Bay St. Louis.

how are you on riddles?

You can't see it,
Carry or weigh it—
You buy it each day,
But stores don't display it—
It's made and delivered
The instant you need it!
What is its name?
Look below, and you'll read it!

It's as much a part of your daily life as the air you breathe. You find it in every room of your house. You order, receive and use it all in just the twinkling of an eye. There's not a second of your day when it isn't making life easier, healthier, more comfortable for you. And it's just about the biggest bargain in your family budget. What is it? Why—electricity—of course! What else does so much—for so little!

Plan For Nationwide 4-H Fund Campaign

State College, Miss.—With $48,161.79 already raised for the Mississippi 4-H Club Camp fund, members of the State 4-H Advisory Council, composed of top business and professional men and women at a meeting in Jackson recently (Friday) launched plans for a nationwide campaign enabling business interests to assist the drive.

R. O. Monosmith, state 4-H Club leader, reported that of the total $48,161.79 raised, $34,578.67 was raised by white 4-H Club members and $11,380.03 raised by negro 4-H members, and $2,202 by special contributions.

PLANS COMPLETED

Plans have been completed including blueprint and cost information for the 4-H Club camps at Sardis Lake and Madison County. "A Gulf Coast camp has been offered the 4-H Clubs. Only a few details remain to be ironed out before we can accept the Gulf Coast camp," Mr. Monosmith said.

The plan, as outlined by Ed Fulton, Sears Roebuck, Laurel, president of the State 4-H Advisory Council, includes participation by the County Advisory 4-H Council, County Junior Council, County Adult Leaders, bankers, newspaper and radio editors, other business and professional people.

DRIVE TO GET UNDERWAY

The concerted drive is expected to get underway during National 4-H Club Week, March 4-12.

In addition to Mr. Fulton, other state committee members approving the plan at the meeting included S. A. Robert, G. M. & O. R. R., J. D. Davis, Jackson, United Gas & Pipeline Co., Dr. D. M. Griswold, Jackson; Lee M. Taylor, Jackson, Mississippi Power & Light Co., Mrs. H. K. Key, Philadelphia; Oliver Emmerich, McCoch editor, J. M. Tubbs, Jackson, State Superintendent of Education; Edward A. Khayat, Pascagoula; Mrs. S. D. Spann, Brandon, president of State Home Demonstration Council; S. J. Greer, Natchez, and Steve Miesburg, Jackson, Standard Oil Co.

BACK TO WORK

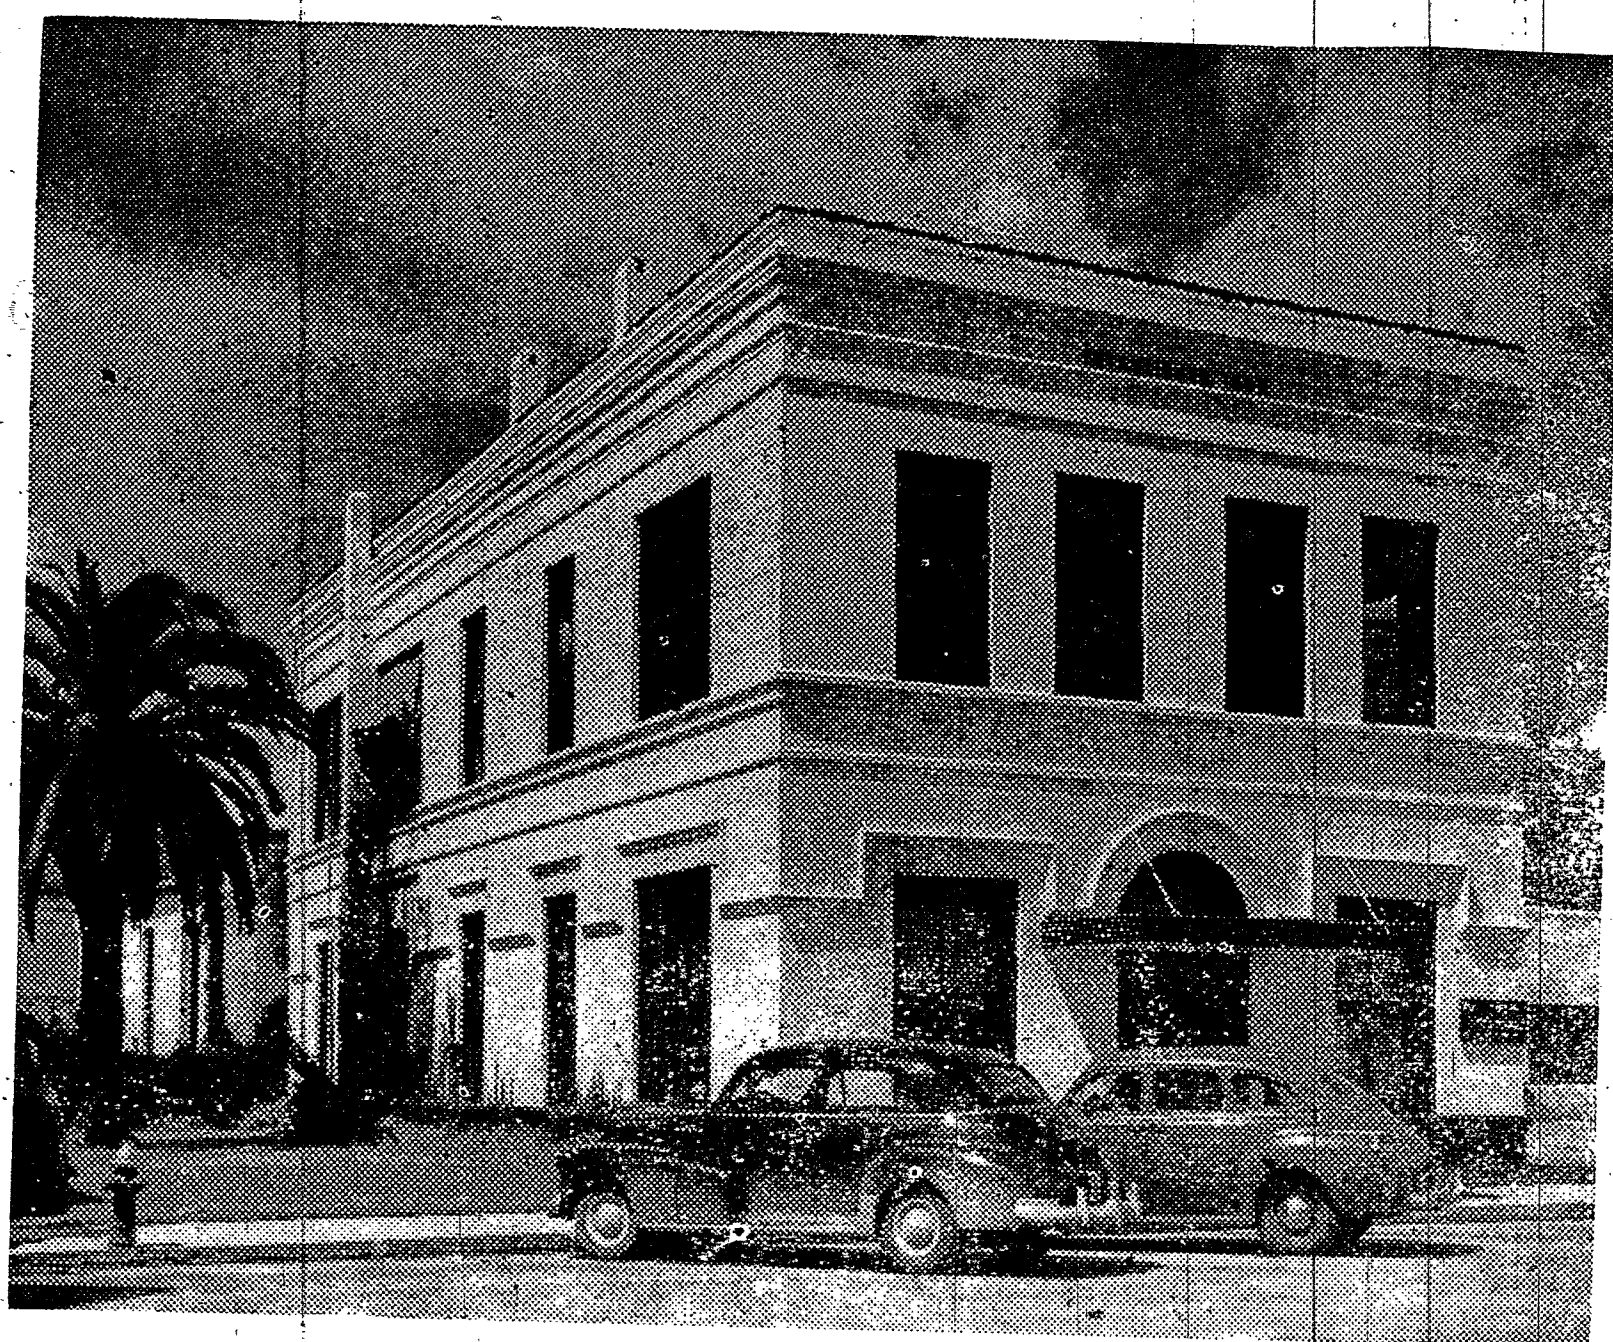

The Bay High Band, under the direction of W. W. Ruecoe, is now settling down to the routine of schoolwork and practice after two weeks of participation in Carnival activities.

The band marched in two parades in Gretna, La., and two in Algiers, La., during the Mardi Gras season; they also participated in the P-T-A Carnival parade held here last Tuesday.

The group enjoyed the trips and benefited from the experience gained.

Mrs. P. E. Porter, Jr., Mrs. Frank Smith, Mrs. Bedford F. Floyd, Gulfport.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Robert Fant, Mrs. Roy Johnson, Mrs. Harry Stanley, Mrs. Charles Hogarth, Mrs. Allen Kerr, Mrs. Jason Floyd, Mrs. B. F. Floyd and Miss Lucille CCreighton, all of Gulfport.

"Eating Up Our Seed Corn"

John Beckley, business editor of NEWSWEEK, voices the fear that we may be "eating up our seed corn" as more and more of the national income is siphoned off in the form of taxes, leaving an ever declining margin of capital for maintenance and expansion of the nation's industrial establishment.

Any ordinary dirt farmer knows that the seed for his year's planting must be saved from last year's crop. Should the farmers fail to take this precaution, they would do worse than merely forfeit their own prosperity. They would jeopardize the lives of all the people whose food must come from what the farmers grow.

The principle applies just as certainly to industry. Those who own and operate the nation's industries must reserve from last year's income sufficient capital to buy tools and build new plants. For, aside from those engaged in agricultural pursuits, all earners must look to industry, directly or indirectly, for jobs.

Is industrial expansion keeping pace with a growing population and the subsequent demand for new jobs? Estimates of civilian population increase in continental United States since the close of World War II reveal a gain of 12,698,833. The gain of 1949 over 1948 was 1,157,000.

In the face of these population gains, and the resulting demand for new jobs, capital expenditures for expansion is on the wane. President Truman, in his state of the union speech, cited an 18½ percent decline in 1949 in domestic business investment. This startling loss in capital investment gives credence to the grave concern felt by business men and bankers that continued deficit spending by big government, which necessitates increased demands for higher tax levies, is setting the stage for national bankruptcy.

This year the government will take in the form of taxes $55,000,000,000 or 25 percent of the national income. The government has run in the red for 18 out of the last 20 years. So we can entertain little hope that the tax burden will become lighter. After the cost of production, to say nothing of a double-taxed return to the stockholder whose money created the industry in the first place, how much can be salvaged from the remaining 75 per cent of earnings to maintain existing plants and build new ones to absorb the increasing number of bread earners?

In the hue and cry for more and more welfare spending, we may well be "eating up our seed corn" as we buy doubtful social benefits with the money that should go into increasing and improving our plants and factories.
